Hey everyone! My name is Alexurt and I am the site owner and editor for SimsVIP! I am a long time simmer and community member, and I am also the one woman show who creates the text and photos for these awesomely free game guides!

For you to be reading this here section, means that you are reading the PDF version of this guide. These wonderful PDF versions of the Guide would not be available without the help of our partner Petar over at SimHrvatska.

Enjoy the guide and thank you for your continued support.

Hello, my name is Petar Jadek or we will simply say Pjadek. Many people know me from the first PDF guide that I made for SimsVIP. I live in a small town of Slatina in eastern Croatia, where I enjoy the Sims and other things that makes me happy. I mostly like to convert documents to PDF, edit images in Photoshop and use Illustrator to create graphics. I have my own web page SimHrvatska, which will soon publish first issue of the magazine. We are also partners with SimsVIP.

Enjoy in guide and have fun with reading about Sims!

The ambience of candlelight without the messy melted wax, this exquisite old-world lantern replica is a certain conversation piece. Why buy antiques when you can have the convenience of modern electric lighting and the look of faux weathering?

The Rustique Wall Lantern
$110

Relive the days of yesteryear when electric lighting was an extravagance found only in mansions belonging to the upper crust. With this replica wall lantern, you can add old-world charm to your estate with the safety of modern electric wiring.

Quaintessential Spark
$150

Handcrafted with care by the finest illuminarians, this lovely traditional scene is the perfect balance of strength and grace. The subtle glow of peepot lighting provides a classy ambience from dusk until dawn. There's no need to stargaze when you can star into the lights of this masterpiece.

The Lemonade Baron
$25

After years of research into lemonade creation, preservation, and pouring ergonomics, scientists have finally designed "the most researched lemonade pitcher" ever created. Unfortunately for them, "The Perfect Lemonade Pitcher" was already patented by another company.
The Entrée Appetizer Dish
$70
This decorative bowl was once used as a serving plate in the days of yesteryear. Called "The Entrée Appetizer," it was a widely held belief that the shapes and contours of this bowl would make a dish to be cooked quicker. Modern scientific testing on a range of meals from Goopy Carbonara to Shu Surprise has proven this to be false, hence the decorative status.

Splendiferous Brand Serving Dish
$75
When celebrating a large event or hosting a VIP, Splendiferous is the brand to trust when it comes to impressing guests! Four out of five exclusive guests agree: nothing makes a greater party impression than the quality of serving dishes. Choose Splendiferous today!

Hanging Plant of Simiolón
$50
When the Hanging Plants of Simiolón were first discovered by Arutro Tenregado in the first half of the middle century, he and his hardened explorers were perplexed as to why anyone would choose to hang a plant from a wall. However, after being trapped in the Tomb of Simiolón for 40 days, they grew to love the decorative appeal of wall plants.

Agave Yougave
$65
The ancient Huhuwantha tribe believed this succulent plant could be used as a cure for a host of ailments ranging from Sismo Tongue to Nano Foot. Since the Huhuwantha rapidly fell into extinction, you might want to stick with beautifying your outdoors with this lovely living planter.

Fence of Farmington
$25
When Archduke Mitchell of Smithington decided to invade the fair land of Farmington at the turn of the Middle Century, the farmers constructed fences of incredible strength... and style. When Mitchell's forces approached, they were instantly repelled in aces when they caught sight of the intricate and detailed craftsmanship of Farmington's walls. Archduke Mitchell never returned.

Gate of Farmington
$200
All great fences need a great gate, and the Gate of Farmington sacrifices no style or design of the original Fence of Farmington. We'd venture to say that even just the Gate of Farmington would have repelled Archduke Mitchell's forces during their attack upon the Land of Farmington.
